This year your support has made an even more meaningful difference in the lives of our students. Because of the pandemic, our students are facing significant obstacles. And many are facing financial hardships not encountered before the pandemic. A scholarship gift, like yours, allows students to worry less about money and spend more time thinking about their studies and caring for animals. We at the college thank you and our students thank you for your generous support of tomorrow’s veterinarians. Because of you, we will come through this stronger than ever.

Sincerely,

Robert Mealey, DVM, PhD
Interim Dean, College of Veterinary Medicine
“I am honored to be this year’s recipient of the Veterinary Heritage Scholarship. I have learned so much in my first year of vet school and I look forward to expanding my knowledge base next year! Research has been an interest of mine since primary school, and working at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center as a summer intern and technician for five years, inspired me to combine an education in veterinary medicine and biomedical science.

After I finish my DVM and PhD dual degree, I hope to work in oncology clinical trials conducting research and clinical studies to develop better cancer preventions and treatments for animals. It has been inspiring to learn about new breakthroughs in cancer research and I hope to contribute to how we fight cancer.

One of my highest values is giving back to my community through service. I am an active member of my community and am rewarded by my work with the Pink Polka Dots Guild, a Seattle Children’s Hospital Junior Guild that raises money for pediatric brain cancer research and as a Service Learning Coordinator leading college students on service trips and educating them on important issues in the community.

Thank you once again for supporting my educational journey. I appreciate the donations that made this scholarship possible to support the next generation of veterinarians.”
“Our reasons for contributing to the Veterinary Heritage Scholarship come from several occurrences, not the least of which is the feeling of family with the school. I remember once when Dean Bustad walked into the clinic out of the blue because he was in the area and wanted to say, “Hi!” and Dr. Slinker always made us feel so comfortable.

We participated in the preceptorship program with WSU for a long time and had many students stay at home with us over the years. We got to know them and how their education was preparing them for practice. That allowed us to see how veterinary medicine education was advancing at a rapid pace, and we ultimately wanted to be a part of that.

After practicing for almost 40 years we were in a position to contribute to the education of the students in a meaningful way. We are very pleased to be a part of the College of Veterinary Medicine and helping students with their education.

Go Cougs!”

* The Heritage Scholarship fund was created by the college as a way for alumni to give back to their school and enhance both veterinary education and animal care by lowering tuition costs for current students. Learn more at www.vetmed.wsu.edu/Heritage.

Why We GIVE
Barry, Denise, and Aubrie Blevins

Inspired by their love for animals and belief that all creatures deserve loving respect, Barry, Denise, and Aubrie Blevins wanted to ensure that the WSU Veterinary Teaching Hospital will be known in perpetuity for exceptional and compassionate medical care for animals. By establishing the Blevins Family Good Samaritan Endowment and Blevins Family Small Animal Scholarship at WSU, they will impact the lives of companion animals, their owners, and those who provide veterinary care for years to come. The endowments express appreciation for the courtesy and compassion demonstrated by staff, faculty, and students when the family pursued specialized care for their cat, Beau, at WSU.

“I am sincerely and immensely grateful for the Blevins Family Scholarship. I feel lucky to be a part of such a loving and compassionate profession and their story increases my great passion in becoming a Veterinarian. I’m hoping to start my DVM career in a small rural town setting similar to Winnemucca, Nevada where I grew up. My enthusiasm for eventually being part of a rural veterinary practice were enhanced more as I read about the Blevins family originating from small towns in Idaho. I love to hear about local businesses and the family culture of passing a business down through generations, especially in small rural communities.

I have dreamed of becoming a Veterinarian for as long as I can remember. I was extremely excited to be accepted into the College of Veterinary Medicine at Washington State University. I will work extremely hard throughout this next year in my clinical rotations, while also taking time to participate and make a difference in the community. I want to become the best Veterinarian, and person I can be!”

"I really appreciate being awarded the Wells Bekins Beef Cattle Scholarship in honor of Dr. Stephen Ruark as it will aid in the expensive cost of my veterinary school education. I am thankful for the generosity Wells Bekins has shown, not only to me and receiving this scholarship, but all the others that have received this scholarship and all that will in the future.

I grew up in Southern Colorado outside of a small town where my family raised commercial cattle. That is where I learned to have a good work ethic and learned a lot about animals and how to treat them. As I finish my final year of Veterinary school, my major interests are beef cattle reproduction and medicine and equine medicine. I plan to work in a rural mixed animal practice hopefully focusing on large animal medicine and reproduction with my wife who is also graduating this year with her DVM. When we are not studying or at the hospital, we enjoy spending time with our children and doing anything on the ranch, especially riding horses and roping. Thank you so much for giving me this opportunity."

The IMPACT for

Jonathan Henrichs ’22

“I could not have had a better experience in the time between my first and second years of vet school. In Peru I met so many people, both Peruvians and veterinarians from across Latin America and the U.S., who I shared amazing experiences with, became friends with, and who invited me to join them for future projects abroad. I was able to work with hundreds of animals, get outside my comfort zone in countless ways, and continue to grow.

My eyes were opened to many of the challenges facing those attempting to do good in this world through improving animal welfare abroad. I made meaningful progress toward my goals of helping and establishing ties with rural working-horse communities in places of need, improving my Spanish, and creating future sources of inspiration for myself. I cannot thank Dr. Vaniman enough for the Vaniman International Travel Grant, what I have gained from this amazing opportunity, and the experiences that I will carry with me throughout my future.”

Why I GIVE

Dr. Shaun R. Vaniman

The heart behind the Vaniman International Travel Grant is to provide a vet student who has financial limitations the opportunity to experience the life, food, culture, and natural wonders of a foreign land that they would otherwise have never traveled, while at the same time experiencing a world of veterinary medicine that they may never have known existed. There are so many opportunities to make a difference and touch the lives of animals and people all over the world. Dr. Vaniman’s hope is that this grant gives one student an opportunity to go somewhere they have always dreamed of traveling, do something they have always wanted to do, and be the person they’ve always wanted to be.

Why We GIVE

Dr. Robert and Mrs. Janice Olds

Along with many clients and friends, Dr. and Mrs. Olds established a scholarship to celebrate a well-loved career in veterinary medicine spanning more than fifty years. The Olds’ scholarship is awarded to a first year student who is Hispanic, Latino or Native American, to persevere in their studies and complete their education.

Dr. Olds cites two “wonderful opportunities” in his life. The first was going to Washington State. “I love WSU, being a Cougar, all the wonderful experiences and the life it has afforded me,” he said. “I served on the board of trustees and help fund-raise for the veterinary college.” The second wonderful opportunity was marrying Janice, his wife of 42 years, “a wonderful woman, life partner and mother of our two sons.”

The IMPACT for
Haley Garcia ’23

“I am beyond excited to have received the Dr. Robert and Mrs. Janice Olds Scholarship. I am finishing my first year of veterinary school, online and at home. I am sure you understand I have a lot running through my mind at this time, but the Olds’ generosity has made me very thankful and pushed me towards a more positive outlook.

I have absolutely loved being a Wazzu Cougar and I never doubt that I made the right decision in moving to Pullman. As I dive deeper into my academic career as a veterinary student, I am leaning towards focusing on small animal based medicine and I would love to own my own clinic one day. I have a french bulldog named Barry, who has moved to Pullman with me and is adjusting to the snow, slowly but surely.

This scholarship means the world to not only me, but my family. We are grateful that this scholarship is awarded to a Hispanic student, as that makes me even more proud to be a Dominican, first generation student! This scholarship fuels my drive, to wake up every day in pursuit of a successful and rewarding career. With your generosity, some of the weight is lifted off my shoulders. It feels good to know we have people behind us, rooting for us. I thank you from the bottom of my heart!”

The IMPACT for Alexandra Newhouse ’21

“I am extremely grateful to be receiving the Eleanor Resch Miller Scholarship. Growing up in the Yakima Valley, I was surrounded by agriculture and quickly developed a love for not only cattle but all animals. This love became a passion and now a career. I plan on pursuing a career in bovine production medicine upon graduation. I look forward to being able to combine my passion for veterinary medicine and knowledge of the agriculture industry.

I greatly appreciate this scholarship and Dr. David Prieur for his involvement in teaching me, even if not directly, to be the best veterinarian I can be. This generosity will help me to continue pursuing my path in veterinary medicine.”
